A JOB ORIENTED INDUSTRY ENABLEMENT PROGRAM

Transforming People
and Businesses

AlmaMate has been founded by IT industry professionals with deep insight into the requirements of the IT industry. The company has a clear focus on creating transformative value proposition to address the competency requirements of the IT industry. AlmaMate has created innovative service offerings and launched new business models that help the industry address its people requirements right from fresh graduates on-boarding up to managerial level. This includes Competency Management and People development. Its training programs cover a wide spectrum including technology training, behavioral training and programs to improve self effectiveness, team effectiveness, employee engagement and customer orientation. Its innovative sourcing and training models address all the talent issues and provide the industry regular supply of trained graduates with significant cost savings.

AlmaMate is focused on bridging the gap between the skills of the graduates produced by the engineering colleges and the requirement of the IT industry.
